Cork City Ballet in association with Cork Opera House presents

The Nutcracker

This festive production features Japanese ballerina Chika Temma as the Sugar Plum Fairy in the company's first full-length Nutcracker. Irish ballerina Monica Loughman and Russian Ballet star Robert Gabdullin will also feature in the show, which will be enhanced by magnificent costumes specially commissioned and made at the Kirov Ballet in St. Petersburg.

Renowned for its presentation of fresh and innovative ballets, Cork City Ballet's Nutcracker will be choreographed by Bolshoi trained choreographer Yuri Demakov and the company's Artistic Director Alan Foley, and will include company soloists and a full corps de ballet.

Speaking at the recent launch, Alan Foley said, "In these tough economic times, Cork City Ballet is proud to continue to represent the classical ballet genre in its home city for an enriching event which is sure to please every cultural palate at an affordable price".
